RE: AT&T - T-Mobile merger

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to ask that the FCC not approve the proposed merger between AT&T and T-Mobile. I have been a T-Mobile customer for seven years and have been pleased with their plan pricing and service. I was a long ago customer of AT&T and was not pleased with them and swore I would never be a customer of theirs again. So, I am not happy with this proposed merger as I do not want to have to be forced to become an AT&T customer.

As a consumer, it is difficult to understand how this merger will be good for us or for the country. It puts way too much control of the wireless industry in the hands of two companies (AT&T and Verizon). With these two companies controlling this sector, they will not have to be competitive.

AT&T is like a bad penny that keeps showing up. I realize that the current AT&T has grown from Southwestern Bell but many years ago our government spent millions of dollars breaking up AT&T as it had gotten too big and controlled too much of the telephone market. Please do not let this happen again.

And much like the jokes of long ago, Ma Bell being the only telephone company in town and acting like it, I think will ring true for AT&T if this merger goes through. Please check the Consumer Reports rankings from their January 2011 issue. The cell phone company ratings in every city in the country that was polled has AT&T at the bottom whereas T-Mobile ranks differently in different cities in the country.

If for some reason this merger goes through, T-Mobile customers should be allowed to get out of their contracts with no monetary penalty. We should not be forced to be a customer of a company that we want no part of. However, I truly hope reason prevails in this case and this merger is not approved.

Sincerely,

Patricia Lundgren
